Prelate of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Kentucky Stricken with Heart Disease While Visiting in This City.

BISHOP DUDLEY.

The sudden death of the Right Rev. Thomas Underwood Dudley, Episcopal Bishop of Kentucky, will prove a distinct blow to his many friends in this city and the members of his diocese in Kentucky. Called to this city by the illness and death of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth W. Aldrich, of No. 200 Madison avenue, his own death followed and his body will be sent back to Kentucky to-day.

Bishop Dudley had been in poor health for nearly a year, but kept actively at work and appeared to feel a little better than usual when he arrived in this city a week ago. After attending the funeral of his mother-in-law he decided to remain for the consecration of the Rev. David H. Greer, Bishop Coadjutor of New York.

He remained at the residence of his late mother-in-law, and while talking with members of the family, suddenly clutched at his breast and fell over a chair, dead. The funeral will be held in Louisville next Wednesday, the twentieth anniversary of his consecration as Bishop of Kentucky.

He leaves a widow and nine children, three sons and six daughters. Four of the daughters are married.

Bishop Dudley was born in Richmond, Va., in 1837. He graduated from the University of Virginia in 1858. During the civil war he joined the Confederate Army and was assigned to the commissary department. He rose to the rank of major and after the close of the war began his studies for the Episcopal ministry. He graduated from the Virginia Theological Seminary in 1861 and was ordained a deacon that same year. He was ordained to the priesthood in 1862 and in January, 1869, became assistant at Christ Church, Baltimore. He succeeded to the rectory a month later on the death of the Rev. Henry A. Wise, Jr., and remained there until he was consecrated Assistant Bishop of Kentucky. He became Bishop of Kentucky in 1884, on the death of Bishop Smith.

At the last General Convention of the Church Bishop Dudley was chosen Chairman of the House of Bishops and held that office at the time of his death. He was the author of several books of lectures and sermons and was a man of genial personality, good cheer and a favorite with all classes.

Shields Had Invited Friends and Relatives to His Home and Laughed and Joked Throughout the Evening.

Leaving a table where he had been the bright spirit of a happy little party of friends and relatives, Robert A. Shields, ticket agent of the Fulton street, Brooklyn, office of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, went into the bathroom of his home, at No. 57 Franklin avenue shortly after midnight to-day and drank two ounces of carbolic acid. The sound of his body falling to the floor brought a tragic climax to the festivities.

Yesterday Shields invited friends and relatives to join him, his wife and twelve-year-old son in an excursion to Coney Island, to be followed by a party in the evening at his home. He obtained a day's holiday for the occasion. He seemed in high spirits, laughing and joking continually.

Returning to his home, a supper was provided and the merriment continued until past midnight. Then, all of a sudden, he had just told, he left the table and entered the bathroom.

A moment later the sound of a heavy fall was heard, and Mrs. Shields and her son rushed into the room. He was found lying on the floor and beside him was a broken bottle that had contained carbolic acid and before a physician could be summoned.

While District-Attorney Jerome is hunting mountain lions and other animals in the Far West and in Mexico, criminal business in this county is clogging the wheels of justice.

The District-Attorney has been absent from this city now nearly two weeks, and there is no telling when he will be back at his post again.

Acting District-Attorney Rand said yesterday that he had not heard from Mr. Jerome in several days. Mr. Rand said he did not think that the absence of his chief had retarded the punishment of criminals or in any way had hindered the administration of criminal justice. "Mr. Jerome," Mr. Rand said, "was a very sick man when he left here. He had grown stale. The vim had gone out of his eyes and he needed a long rest."

Big Tombs Census. Not since the days of John R. Fellows have there been so many persons in the Tombs as there are at present awaiting trial for various offenses. The census of the Tombs to-day shows that of 36 prisoners there more than 25 are awaiting trial in the criminal courts. Of these twenty-one are charged with homicide. Five women are in this lot.

Nearly all have been in the Tombs for more than a month, and, according to those who have charge of the business in Mr. Jerome's office during his absence, it is hard to say when they will be placed on trial.

The case of Tommaso Petto, the "barrel" murderer, is a typical subject for investigation of the law's delay in murder trials. Petto, known as the "Ox" because of his size and brutal appearance, was arrested last April by United States Secret Service agents, charged with killing an informer on a gang of counterfeiters of which Petto was the head.

Although the Secret Service agents turned over to the District-Attorney's office and Inspector McCuskey sufficient evidence against Petto to prove premeditation and deliberation, no attempt has been made to put him on trial. Assistant District-Attorney Garvin has charge of the prosecution of Petto, but he has been busy trying minor offenders.

BAD SETBACK FOR JEROME'S SLEUTHS

Decision of the Appellate Division in the La Roche Case May Stop the Activities of the "County Detectives."

The decision of the Appellate Division, confirming the conviction of Lawrence H. St. Clair, a private detective, found guilty of disorderly conduct by persistently following F. A. La Roche, came as a surprise to the District-Attorney's office. St. Clair was convicted in the Court of Special Sessions two months ago and sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or serve five days in the city prison.

His counsel, J. W. Osborne, immediately filed notice of appeal, and notified the District-Attorney's office that in order to test the right of a private detective to dog the footsteps of a man he would carry the case to the Court of Appeals if necessary.

By the direction of the Justices of the Court of Special Sessions, the District-Attorney's office, in a half-hearted way, combated Mr. Osborne's contention. So faint was their defense of the position taken by the Justices that it aroused considerable criticism, and none of the Justices expected that the decision of the Appellate Division would sustain the position of St. Clair, owing to the faint-heartedness of the District-Attorney's support.

It developed to-day that the reason for this was that Mr. Jerome was afraid that if the Appellate Court sustained the contention of the Special Session Justices, his own force of county detectives would be stopped from pursuing the same line of work, they not being authorized police officers under the statutes.

But Mr. Osborne's intention to appeal from the Appellate Division ruling to Here's one of a thousand such testimonials. Rev. A. D. Buckley, of Buffalo, says: "I wish all to know what a blessing Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder is in a case of Catarrh. I was troubled with this disease for years, but the first time I used this remedy it gave me most delightful relief. I now regard myself entirely cured."

Dr. Agnew's Pills are delightful. 40 doses 20 cents.

Duncan Young, a burglar, who shot and killed a citizen while pursuing his nefarious calling, is dean of the murderers' row. He has been in the Tombs since March last awaiting a retrial.

Green's Slayer Untried.

C. W. Williams, the negro who shot and killed Andrew A. Green, "Father of Greater New York," occupies the cell next to that of Young. Although the evidence against Williams has been in the District-Attorney's hands since the day of the murder, there has been no attempt made to bring him to trial, despite the statements of Mr. Jerome before his departure that Williams would be tried and sent to Sing Sing for execution without delay.

The other murderers, apparently immune from immediate punishment, accept their lot with indifference. Mr. Rand, when asked yesterday why Williams had not been placed on trial, said: "Mr. Jerome left certain instructions concerning that case, and we have not yet received the final reports of the alienists we employed to examine Williams."

For the last two weeks Judge Cowing has had on the calendar in his court nothing but bookmaking and gambling-house cases, the defendants all being on bail; while those arrested for far more serious crimes, too poor to employ a bondsman, have been kept in the Tombs.

Judge Foster has been busy since Mr. Jerome's departure trying liquor-tax and other petty offenders. Judge Newburger, in Part I, has been trying to keep down the census of the Tombs. In order to do this the District-Attorney has received and accepted pleas of guilty from numerous offenders who, if placed on trial, would have been convicted of a far more serious grade of crime.

Because of the inability of Jerome's assistants to cope with the increase of crime and the disposal of hundreds of cases accumulated during Mr. Jerome's regime, the calendars of several of the criminal courts have "broken down" on two or three occasions during the last two weeks.

the Court of Appeals for final decision. It will be Mr. Jerome's duty to try to sustain the decision of the Appellate Division and the Justices of Special Sessions are wondering what his attitude before the Court of Appeals will be.

Flowers in the Old Garden.

WOMAN'S RESPONSE TO NATURE.

No man will deny that woman's mind is more imaginative and more appreciative of the beauties of nature than man's. Most women love the flowers, the woods, the trees, and everything that is beautiful in nature.

"A perfect woman only plants."

To wars, to comfort and command."

Nature never intended that women should suffer from physical disabilities at certain periods, and too often women feel that the great distress they suffer at these periods is only natural. The fact is the women who live in the open air and do physical labor are little troubled by the pains and ills that our delicate, house-born women suffer. At any rate, nature provides a cure for these ills of womanhood in the way of a vegetable compound, made only of roots and herbs, without the use of a particle of alcohol or any narcotic. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a womanly tonic that has sold more largely in the United States than any other compound prescribed only for the diseases of women. Dr. R. V. Pierce, the well-known specialist, is chief of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y.

The womanly system is a delicate machine which can only be compared to the intricate mechanism of a watch that has sold more largely in the United States than any other compound prescribed only for the diseases of women. Dr. R. V. Pierce, the well-known specialist, is chief of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y.

The correctness of this advice is amply proven by the experience of many thousands of women. A large number of whom have written of their experiences. So sure of it is the World's Dispensary Medical Association, the proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that they offer $500 reward for women who cannot be cured of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus or Falling of the Womb. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure. Their financial responsibility is well-known to every newspaper publisher and druggist in the United States. This wonderful remedy therefore stands absolutely alone as the only one possessed of such remarkable curative properties as would warrant its makers in publishing such a marvelous offer as is above made in the utmost good faith. It is a medicine which has stood the test of a third of a century, and numbers its cures by the thousands. It is a perfectly safe tonic in any condition of the system, being entirely vegetable.

One great secret of youth and beauty for the young woman or the mother is the proper understanding of her womanly system and well-being. Every woman, young or old, should know herself and her physical make up. A good way to arrive at this knowledge is to get a good doctor book, such for instance, as "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by R. V. Pierce, M. D., which can be procured by sending 21 cents in one-cent stamps for paper-bound volume, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy, addressing Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
